

Murphy still hesitates on re-election decision

By Walt Hecox

Despite obvious mounting pressure from a broad spectrum of his constituents John D. Murphy, First District Supervisor in Alameda County, is still undecided on whether or not he will seek reelection next year.

Murphy's reticence may be agonizing to his supporters, tantalizing to his political foes and give the appearance of melodramatic dillydallying to casual observers, but the reasons for his delayed decision are very real in his own mind and so serious he does not believe he can commit himself until several personal problems are resolved.

Those problems focus most prominently on the health of his wife, the status of his children in school and that of his property in Grass Valley, California.

By far the most important consideration to Murphy is the health of his wife who has recovered from one serious illness and suffered recently from severe physical setbacks from the effects of that malady.

Most of his children are in college with the exception of a son who is attending a preparatory school in Santa Clara.

His property in Grass Valley could be next to his wife, a key issue where his decision is concerned.

There are indications he plans to sell the property. If that occurs there is little doubt Murphy will attempt to add years to his already long tenure in political life in Southern Alameda County.

If not there is a good chance the supervisor may drop completely out of the political picture and move permanently to his three and a half acres in the Sierra Nevada foothills.

Murphy discussed his plans early Monday morning with the Times in the relative quiet of his Pleasanton office on a day declared a holiday for most county employees.

There was no reason to doubt his sincerity in his concern over his wife's health.

But there was every reason to believe he is giving the idea of reelection serious consideration.

It has been obvious to political observers in Alameda County for some time that powerful forces on both sides of the Pleasanton Ridge which divides his district have been pushing hard to get him to return to office.

There is also evidence that labor forces which backed one of his opponents four years ago are rallying to his support today.

Part of the reason for the pressure being applied to the incumbent supervisor is the wavering of several candidates in Fremont who had earlier been reported to be interested in the post.

These include incumbent city councilmen Gene Rhodes, Leon Mezzetti, and Don Dillon.

All three are big vote getters on the other side of the hill and two, Dillon and Rhodes, have a liberal political education.

Dillon has been a member of the Fremont council almost 20 years, a span covering the entire period of that area's incorporation.

Rhodes took his seat on the Fremont Council in 1964.

Recent reports indicate Rhodes' and Dillon's interest in the seat is waning.

Murphy has always been a big vote getter on the other side of the hill.

Fremont, with a total population of more than 120,000, surpassing that of the entire valley, is where the election will be decided according to those who call themselves political experts in the area.

Despite a vocal block of opposition in Livermore, the incumbent also has a large following in the Livermore-Amador Valley.

His backers claim that if he runs in 1976 he will win an easy victory.

"Times have changed since 1972," they point out. "Murphy is a key vote on the board and is the only man likely to bring a decent labor market back to this area. There are people around who need jobs these days."

Murphy, meanwhile, rides the pressure out on a day to day basis. The man who makes up his mind may well be a doctor who can forecast the condition of the supervisor's wife's health.

Decision due

Zone 7 looks at water rates

Treated water rates for 1976 and water service to Camp Parks are the main topics of business at the Zone 7 Board of Directors meeting tomorrow night. The Board will meet at 8 p.m. at the Del

Valle Treatment Plant, 601 East Vallecitos Rd., Livermore.

The Board is scheduled to approve water rates for 1976 as prescribed by a rate resolution adopted last year. That resolution established treated water rates for 1975 and four subsequent years. It requires the Board to meet 60 days before the end of each year to set next year's rates based on cost figures from the prior fiscal year.

An increase in treated water rates of about 20% is expected.

Also on the agenda is a report on preliminary evaluation of treated water service to the Camp Parks area, including Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center.

The Federal government is currently reevaluating water service for the camp. It could continue to operate as it does now, using camp wells to supply water.

A second option is for the U.S. Army to contract with Zone 7 to supply the water. Design and cost studies have already been made. The Zone earlier stated objections to providing service in that area.

Zone 7 maintains that service to the Camp area would have no significant impact on the water quality to Dublin and Pleasanton.

In clarification of action previously taken by the Board, acceptance of a right-of-way for Del Valle pipeline will be discussed.

Alameda County Bureau
Yesterday's closing of county offices in celebration of Columbus Day crowds today for followers of local government.

The planning commissioners meeting normally set for Monday will be held today at 1:30 p.m. in the public works building, 399 Elmhurst St., Hayward, while supervisors meet this evening at 7:30 in their administration building headquarters, 1221 Oak St., Oakland.

Lone Star Industries and California Sand and Gravel Co. will present planning commissioners with their proposed reclamation plans for 154 acres off Stanley Boulevard near Isabel Avenue.

The board of supervisors will pass final county judgment on the fledgling Congress of Valley Agencies (COVA) when Zone 7 of the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District presents COVA's joint powers agreement to the board for approval. The zone is under final jurisdiction of the supervisors and must receive their approval before entering into any contract.

Valley supervisorial representative John D. Murphy in the past has rejected COVA as unnecessary and a political stepping stone for valley political hopefuls.

He earlier refused to join the congress, claiming its steering committee members were not elected by a citizens' vote to their posts on COVA.

The controversial joint powers agreement has been shuffled from and amended by all of COVA's steering committee members: Pleasanton, Livermore VCSD and Zone 7.

While effectively powerless over decisions by its member agencies, COVA nevertheless was forced to amend its joint powers agreement so that any steering committee member may veto discussion or review of a project within that individual agency's jurisdiction.

Zone 7's participation may be crucial, however, since its single vote breaks the even-numbered committee membership. Pleasanton, Livermore and VCSD each have two votes on the committee.

Its financial participation also weighs heavily on the group since the appointment of executive director Bette Meyer and plans for forthcoming valley-wide congresses.

thermore, we respectfully request the enthusiastic endorsement of the general membership of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce."

The report is signed by Ben Fernandez, chamber president, and George Spiliotopoulos, Warren Harding, Ted Mann, Ken Mercer, Ray Young and Mike Harris.

On Sept. 22 the general membership of the chamber passed a resolution stating, "That the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Pleasanton endorse the concept of a Redevelopment Agency."

A second motion was made and passed, to wit:

"To postpone endorsement of any plan until Oct. 14, and also to consider points raised in the letter from Bernard Gerton."

Gerton was recently felled by a heart attack while on a hunting trip to Eastern Nevada. He was hospitalized in an Elko, Nevada hospital.

The thrust of Gerton's letter led to a chamber committee agreeing on two key items regarding redevelopment, 1) Incremental tax financing is an excellent method of financing the Redevelopment Agency and, 2) he feels that time is of the essence and that a plan be adopted as soon as possible.

It is expected that the general membership will act on the question at the noon meeting.

COVA faces test

Bernard Gerton 'feeling better'

"Feeling much better, and looking forward to receiving a few cards."

That's the report this week on Bernard Gerton, who is recuperating at a hospital in northern Nevada from a severe heart attack sustained one week ago, while Gerton and four other valley men were on a fishing trip.

"He's out of intensive care and we should be able to bring him home in another two or three weeks," was the report given The Times by Mark Gerton, brother to the former Pleasanton mayor and well known valley realtor.

"He had quite a jolt," the younger Gerton reported of his brother's heart attack. The illness was complicated by the rugged terrain in which the men were fishing. "Bernie had the attack about 5 p.m., but it was another two hours before others from the camp found him, and then they had to rig a bed spring as a sort of litter to get him back to camp. It was 1 a.m. by the time they got him to Elko General Hospital."

Mark Gerton frankly acknowledged that "the first reports were grim. We thought we had lost him."

But "the excellent response by the staff at that little hospital" and a telephone conference involving several heart specialists and the family brought the 62-year-old Gerton through those first critical days.

"He's out of intensive care now, and looking forward to receiving some cards," the younger Gerton reported. The address would be: Bernard Gerton, Elko General Hospital, Elko, Nevada 89801.

120 citations, 26 arrests

That big Saturday cruise

LIVERMORE — A special edition of cruising First St. Saturday night netted 26 arrests and over 120 citations on a variety of charges, including drunk driving, disturbing the peace, weapons violations, and battery.

Livermore Police Capt. Joseph Nichols estimated cruisers numbered between 4,000-5,000, double their usual number on a typical Saturday night.

Students from Livermore High School had printed and distributed a quantity of flyers advertising a special cruise, saying in part, "Bring your booze and broods and make it a night to remember."

The flyers were to be found all over the south county, inviting people to the "Northern California Cruise." And come they did.

Cruisers from all around the area, as far as Walnut Creek and San Jose joined in the event, showing off a sharp car, checking out the opposite sex, or just gawking at the gawkers.

Police were prepared for the onslaught, putting 30 officers on the street with 15 concentrated in the downtown. Only 14 policeman usually patrol the entire city on a regular Saturday night.

Capt. Nichols said 26 busts, including people involved in a fight which sent one man to Valley Memorial Hospital with a minor eye injury, were made between 8 p.m. Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday.

Police Chief Ronald Lindgren said he was "very happy" with the way his officers handled the situation. "I think it all went very well; I didn't see any major problems."

All those arrested were bailed out or released the next day, police said.

Smoking ban favored

Board to mull poll result

Parents at three valley high schools will be asked to fill out survey questionnaires at open house programs later this month on the question of whether to set up smoking areas at the schools.

Amador Valley Joint High School District trustees, who meet in regular session tonight at Sunol Glen School, will receive the results of a smoking survey conducted through the newspaper which shows a preponderance favoring the continued prohibition of smoking on Amador district campuses.

However, the survey revealed that if smoking WERE permitted, it should be allowed in specifically designated areas. The vote on this question was 36 to 8 with three not indicating an opinion.

Of the 47 persons responding in the first few days of the newspaper survey, 35 listed themselves as "non-smokers." Thirty-nine of the 47 are adults.

The survey also asked, "If smoking were permitted on campus, non-smokers would be encouraged to start smoking." Twenty-six persons checked "yes" and 22 "no."

"If smoking were permitted on campus, students who do smoke would probably tend to smoke more, less or same." Twenty-nine checked "more," 18 "same" and 1 "less."

Another question asked, "If the (smoking) policy remains as it is, would you be willing to help enforce it?" Twenty-five checked "yes" and 21 "no."

Trustees also received a letter from Group Against Smoking Pollution (GASP), a

Berkeley-based group, asking for "discussion by the district of the problems of non-smokers."

Adult self-image colors parenting role

Sometime between the ages of five and eight we have either decided we like ourselves as human beings or we have decided we didn't like ourselves and this decision basically colors our reaction to the rest of our lives, according to Dr. Del Jones, child psychologist of Pleasant Hill.

This self-evaluation carries over to adults when they become parents.

"How you feel about yourself as a person is the basic key in one's ability to raise children," says Dr. Jones.

As keynote speaker of the recent "Mother's T" sponsored by the Valley Christian Center of Dublin, Dr. Jones spoke to 75 valley women at the San Ramon Country Club. Dr. Jones holds a PhD in Counseling psychology from the University of Oregon and is a California licensed marriage, family and child counselor.

Although he stated that one's ability to show love for an offspring is hampered if "I don't feel good about myself as a person," he left the anxious mothers with a feeling of hope. He gave all present some valuable methods on how adults can change their self image if it happens to be negative.

Dr. Jones claims that "the greatest success in dealing with children is to look within yourself and see if you are causing the problem."

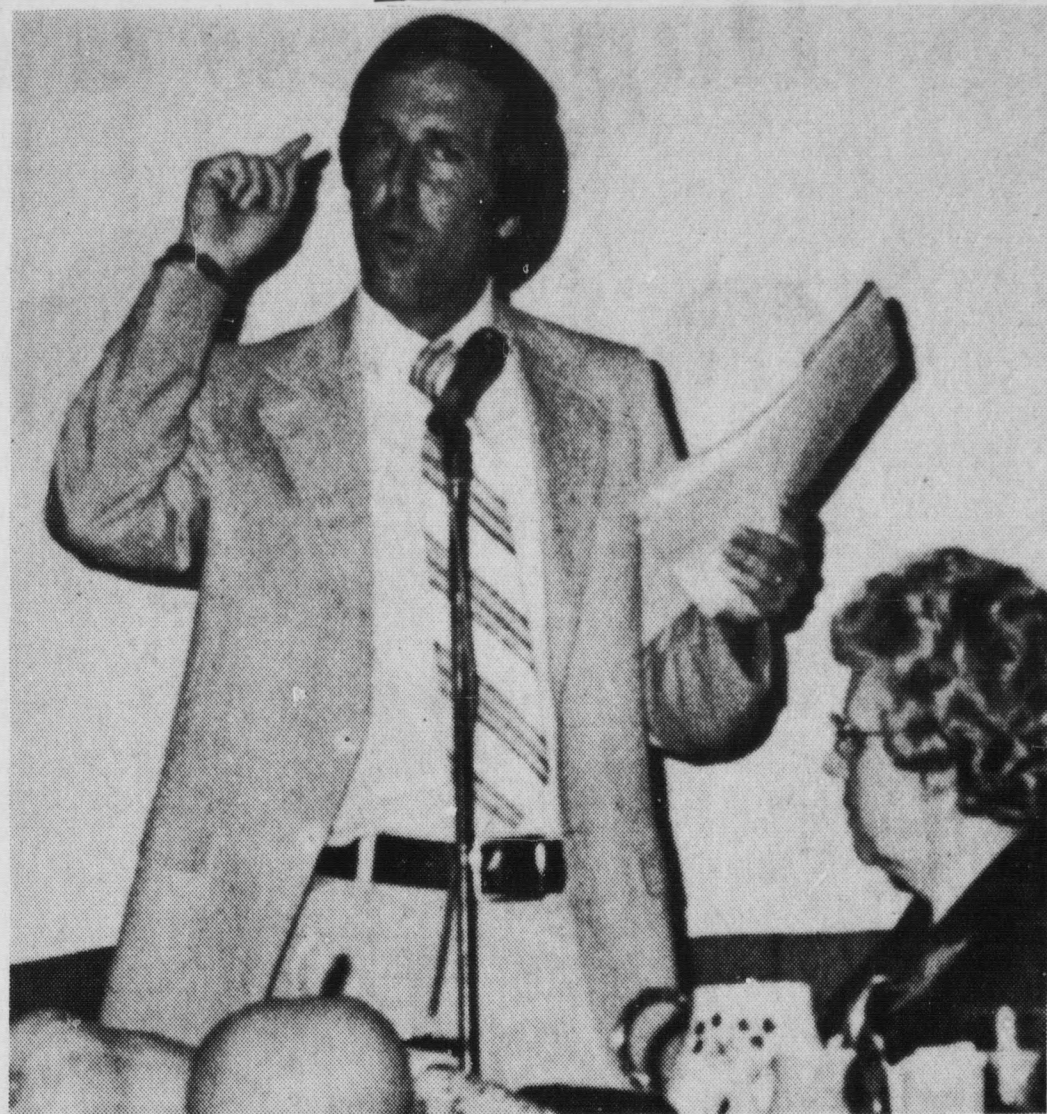

life style

He explained how adults can change a negative self-image by looking into the source of the feelings, sharing them with someone close who can be trusted and endeavoring to become exposed to a more authoritative source than yourself for the answers.

Speaking as a Christian he gave much credit to the grand authority of all and the one who can always be fully trusted — God.

According to Mrs. Tide Saltzman, VCC Christian Education chairman, the year-old program of "Mother's T" informative luncheons has been very well received. They were started primarily as a help for mothers of young children as an inter-denominational service to the valley communities.

The next luncheon is scheduled for November 11 at which Mrs. Ruth Dearborn, former owner of Christian Bookstores and longtime reader

Two head appeal for Hospital

Mrs. Aubrey H. Johnson of Pleasanton and Ed Rundstrom of Livermore will spearhead the local campaign to raise funds for the new Intensive Care Center at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Oakland.

The current effort in the Livermore-Pleasanton area is concerned with contacting potential individual donors. Other aspects of the campaign, including extensive solicitation of businesses and Branch contributions, have been functioning since the first of the year to bring the campaign fund to $1,624,071 against a goal of $1.9 million.

Children's Hospital in Oakland has been designated a regional medical center for serious pediatric cases in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties. Last year case referrals from 36 hospitals in Northern California were received at this hospital. Its Intensive Care Center is the only such facility in the East Bay Area serving the public.

The Intensive Care Campaign marks the first time in the hospital's 65-year history that the public has been asked for funds for major capital improvements.

Happiness is Pleasanton Heritage Days

Councilman Roger McLain presents "best moustache" award to Charles Swift during Heritage Days barbecue.

PLEASANTON — It was a weekend to cherish and build on.

After a slow start dampened by rains of the previous days, the city's annual hoopla, dubbed Pleasanton Heritage Days this year, rallied on Saturday with hundreds of persons touring the arts and crafts booths along Main and at the Amador Shopping Center. The day was topped with a good turnout (attendance estimated at 350) at the Heritage Days Barbecue at the Fairgrounds.

With Sid Leon and crew doing the honors behind the bar, and Gene O'Brien, Tony Macchiano, George Spiliotopoulos and Ben Fernandez taking care of the barbecue, the large crowd was in a good mood for the program to follow.

The evening was made even more enjoyable with a performance by the Pleasanton Bicentennial Band, under the baton of Jerry Lapinski, an instructor of music with the Murray School District.

Pleasanton residents are hopeful the band can be the forerunner of a community band that could play concerts-in-the-park and make appearances at other community events.

The band is one of the many projects organized by Charlotte Severin and the Pleasanton Bicentennial Festivals Committee.

And, lo and behold, who should be named the winner of the Bicentennial Vacation for two (a nine day trip to Boston and the east coast) but Chan Henderson.

The Bicentennial Essay grand prize winners were named.

Erin Bonnell, a junior at Foothill High School, is the high school division winner. Erin won the fourth week contest to become eligible for the grand prize, a $50 savings bond.

Dawna Richter, an eighth grader at Harvest Park, won the $50 savings bond grand prize in the Grades 6-8 division.

And Tammi Messenger, a fourth grader at Donlon

School, was the grand prize winner in the elementary grades division.

Bill Elliott, the defending "hairy countenance champ," won a plaque and shaving mug in the beard judging while Charles Swift was the moustache champ.

Many valley residents took advantage of the hayrides offered by Harold Gabriel. Many others also rode the big red London bus to and from downtown, the Fairgrounds and the Amador, Val Vista and Alpha Beta shopping centers.

Janet Wright admires work of craftsman at Street Faire.

Hall of Science classes under way in Berkeley

The Lawrence Hall of Science fall classes will be getting underway soon and will offer a variety of courses for all ages at the Berkeley facility.

Building telescopes, operating a planetarium projector and making bluejay feeders are just some of the projects students can undertake beginning the first two weeks of October.

The largest class will enroll 20 people with most sessions much smaller than that so lots of personal attention from the teacher goes along with the course.

CHILDREN'S CLASSES

Biology

Hide and Seek — will focus on natural camouflage that animals use. A section for four and five year olds will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. on Wednesdays and a section for five to seven year olds is scheduled for Tuesday afternoons at 4. The cost is $30 for members and $35 for non-members.

Attract An Animal — is for four to six year olds from 2:30 to 3:30 on Tuesdays and will allow children to attempt to build a bird feeder. The cost is $25 for members and $30 for non-members.

Investigating an Autumn Pond — will have two sections, one for five to seven year olds and one for eight and up. The younger children will meet Wednesdays from 2:30 to 3:30 while the older ones will meet Thursdays from 4 to 5:30. The cost is $30 for members and $35 for non-members.

Bio Art I — for six to nine

Students seek flatbed truck

PLEASANTON — The junior class at Amador Valley High School is sorely in need of a flatbed truck to use as a homecoming float.

Flatbed portion of the truck should be at least six feet wide and 15 to 20 feet long. It should be able to be pulled by a truck.

Persons with such a flatbed are asked to call Cathy Carr of the junior class as soon as possible at 462-4819.

year olds combines art with biology with instruction in observing and drawing plants and animals. The class will meet Wednesdays from 4:30 to 5:30 and costs members $25 and non-members $30.

Bio Art II — is for 10 and up and is, surprisingly enough, the second part of Bio Art I.

Investigating With a Microscope — is for 10 and up and meets Tuesdays from 4 to 5:30. Each student will use different kinds of microscopes as well as making one of her own. The cost is $30 for members and $35 for non-members.

Mathematics

Math for Girls — is for six to 14 year olds from 4 to 5:30 on Thursdays who think they hate math.

Puzzles and Patterns I — is for nine to 14 year olds on Tuesday and Wednesdays at 4. The hour and a half class is designed to help children increase their perceptual power.

Intermediate Algebra and Trigonometry — for 11 through 16 year olds on Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 and Saturdays from 10 to 11:30 is designed for high potential students. Admission only after a personal interview.

Advanced Trigonometry; Differential and Integral Calculus — for 11 to 16 year olds is another advanced math course. The class will take place Friday afternoons from 4 to 5:30.

Physical Sciences What's Up There? — for seven through nine year olds on Monday and Thursday afternoons at 4 is a basic introduction to astronomy. The planetarium will be used.

Experimenting with Astronomy — for nine through 15 year olds on Tuesday at 4 will also employ the planetarium and students will learn how to operate the planetarium projector.

Telescope Making — for nine through adult will deal with building an alt-azimuth telescope. Materials will cost about $75 on top of the normal $40 registration fee.

Household Science — for six and seven year olds will meet Tuesdays from 4 to 5 and will conduct experiments with common household materials.

Optical Toys and Parlor Amusements — for eight through 11 year olds will deal with slide projectors, microscopes, telescopes, periscopes, camera obscura and optical illusions. The course will be held Wednesdays from 4 to 5.

Beginning Photography — for nine through 12 year olds is just that. The Saturday morning (10 to 11:30) class includes materials.

Computers

Creative Play With The Computer — for eight through 11 year olds has three and a half hour sections — one on Wednesdays at 4, one on Mondays at 4 and one on Thursdays at 4. The course acquaints the youngsters with computers.

Games Computers Play — for 10 to 13 year olds will give students a chance to analyze computer games and devise games of their own. The class will meet Tuesdays from 4 to 5:30.

Computer Programming in BASIC — for 10 to 18 year olds will teach the youngsters how to program a computer using the BASIC language. Classes are Monday or Wednesday from 4 to 5:30.

Computer Science Seminar — for 13 through adult is from 4 to 6 on Tuesdays and is an exploration of advanced topics in computer science on an interactive, small-group basis.

ADULT

Computer Exploration for Adults — deals with computers in a flexible manner. Part I will meet Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. and Part II — which will deal with programming — meets Tuesdays at the same time.

Further information on all classes is available at 642-5132.

Bubble, Bubble, toil and trouble

Bubbling over with enthusiasm, Dublin residents encountered a soap filled Dublin Boulevard Friday as pranksters filled a service station/ car wash fountain with soap.

Station manager Terry Thorp reports that water conditioners work wonders in cutting the suds, but still it offered a different kind of Friday to local residents.

Legal course offered Livermore teachers

LIVERMORE — Local teachers will be learning more about the nation's legal system through a new 10-session course, "Law in a Free Society," to be offered at Mendenhall school beginning Wednesday, Oct. 15.

The 10-session course costs $15, no credit, or $25 for UCLA credit. First 30 participants in the workshops will receive free teacher and student materials including a casebook on Authority, lesson plans, student resource books and a teacher guide.

Students will examine the sources, functions, costs and benefits of authority in a democratic political system. The course will feature demonstration of a variety of teaching strategies; optional visits to courts and jails; rides with Livermore police on their rounds; and discussions with law enforcement personnel and attorneys.

The staff will include Susan Canfield, a primary teacher at Rancho Las Positas School; Sharon Huseby, who teaches at Mendenhall Intermediate School; Ron Nicola of Livermore High; and Lee Thompson, director of secondary education for the Livermore Unified School District, coordinator.

Cooperating organizations are State Bar Association of California, UCLA School of Law, UCLA Extension, Livermore-Amador Bar Association, Alameda County Bar Association, Livermore Valley Unified School District and Pleasanton-Amador School Districts.

Workshops will be divided between large group activities and grade level meetings. Sessions are Wednesdays from 7-10 p.m. ending Dec. 17, and will be held in Mendenhall School, 1701 El Padro Drive. Additional information is available from Lee Thompson or Linda Fagundes at the district office, 447-9500.

Expert Says Neck Injuries Cause 90% of Headaches

Ninety per cent of the chronic headaches suffered by Americans can be traced to an old neck injury or strain, claims a leading orthopedist.

"Until recently, most chronic headaches were thought to come from nervous or psycho-neurotic origins," said Dr. Murry M. Braaf, who now practices in Manhattan and was formerly chief orthopedic surgeon at the U.S. Army General Dispensary, Washington, D.C.

"Now we have found that 90% of chronic headaches can be traced to trauma (injury or strain) to the cervical spine. The spine may be injured by a direct blow to the neck or, by direct force exerted upon the neck in accidents, including falls and whiplash neck injuries resulting from automobile collisions," he explained.

Dr. Braaf, who described chronic headaches as those that recur and aren't helped by medicine, said he reached his conclusions after studying 6,000 headache sufferers for over 20 years.

Dr. W. H. Hoffert, D.C., of Livermore concurs with Dr. Braaf's findings and says he's delighted to see a medical doctor unmasking the seriousness of the problem.

"Millions of Americans daily gulp tons of pills to cover over headache pain," Dr. Hoffert states. "They do nothing about the cause of the headaches." Dr. Hoffert weekly sees new patients who seek to escape the never-ending trap of pill-popping headaches.

"As you can imagine, these people are frustrated," he says. "Living on aspirin is a depressing answer and I think that one of the really satisfying rewards a doctor can receive is to help someone kick the headache remedy habit."

"Of course, we face an uphill battle. The TV commercials for headache remedies bombard the public. They're very persuasive — I suppose they have to be to pay for the ads."

"Our referrals from headache sufferers are up tremendously," he notes. "People are putting the more therapeutic value in Chiropractic."

"And the recent 'plug' from Dr. Braaf's announcement helps too."

Dr. Hoffert maintains chiropractic offices at 2602 First Street, Livermore, CA.

Bear facts?

Mike, the cavity preventin' Polar Bear, paid a visit to students at Lydikens Elementary School in the Murray School District recently and gave a demonstration on the proper way to brush your teeth and good eating habits. The program is sponsored by the Southern Alameda County Dental Wives Auxiliary. Members of the Auxiliary hope to make the presentation to as many schools in Southern Alameda as they can.

Environmental study needed at Stoneridge tract

A 23-acre subdivision in Pleasanton's Stoneridge area is of significant environmental impact to require a detailed study, the city's director of housing and community development has determined. The development would provide 83 single family dwellings with an average of 8200 square feet per lot. Although the property is now zoned to an R-1 (single family home) planned unit development, the city staff still re-sons that the project could have "detrimental effect" on that neighborhood's environment.

Alphabet soup

Livermore High's friendly counselors, Everett Eckersley (left) and Art Ackerman, are talking "alphabet soup" these days to career-minded students. The alphabet they have in mind is PSAT/NMSQT, which stands for Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Sounds scary, but the all-morning standardized test can provide many opportunities for high-school juniors, including college scholarships. LHS will offer the test beginning 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 25 and signups are being taken now in the LHS counseling office. (Student photo)

100,000 miles with no scratches

LIVERMORE — Piloting a big yellow school bus through 100,000 miles of foggy country roads, past still foggy morning commuters, is no small accomplishment. But Livermore Unified School District drivers Sudie Santos and Dorothy Nielsen have done it, without a scratch to their buses. Mrs. Nielsen drives the Green-Christensen Elementary Schools route on the northside. She joined the district Feb. 18, 1967, and it has taken her almost nine years to roll up the 100,000 miles of driving. Mrs. Santos has been driving since Nov. 4, 1968, and plies the difficult Mines Road route. Both women drive 79-passenger buses. The Livermore Unified School District bus drivers have not caused an accident in so many years that they don't want to reveal how many, lest it jinx their perfect record, says a Transportation Department spokesperson.
